

JENKS STATE BANK NOW REORGANIZED

New Directorate Is Sure of Confidence of the Public

HOME TALENT PREVAILS

Occupies a Handsome New Home Built Purposely for Institution

Special to The World.
JENKS, Feb. 11.—The First State bank of Jenks has reorganized with new directors and new officers, nearly all of them being citizens of Jenks or already identified with its interests. The complete new organization is as follows: President, Joe B. Simmons; vice presidents, R. B. Brewer, Charles Stunkard and Y. E. Dunn; cashier, W. O. King; directors, Joe B. Simmons, R. E. Saun- derson, A. Survant and W. O. King. The bank is capitalized at $15,000, and occupies a handsome brick building erected specially for bank- ing uses.

The new directors are all gen- erals of high standing in the com- munity, having a large following of friends who will be pleased to learn of their connection with this institu- tion, and who will use their influence in support of this bank. Vice Presi- dent Brewer is well known in bank- ing circles owing to his connection with the Exchange National bank of Tulsa. The others need no intro- duction in this community.

The new organization developed from the sale of the interest held by R. B. Stiegler, who was presi- dent after the bank was founded last summer following the disor- ganization of the old bank. Stiegler came here from Beggs, where he and two brothers are interested in a local bank. He bought the ma- jority of the stock of the Jenks bank and reorganized it, giving it a new name and putting it on a sound financial basis. W. O. King, cashier, came with Mr. Stiegler from Beggs and remains in the new lineup.

County Attorney and Sheriff Prevail on Crowd to Leave.

ATOKA, Feb. 11.—Following the murder of Carl Jones, white woman here Thursday and the arrest of Sam Watkins, who is charged with her murder, a heavily armed mob of about 250 men attempted to lynch Watkins here last night.

Attorney Sanders and the sheriff then prevailed upon the mob to dis- perse.

"There are lots of persons here in Bartlesville who call on us for food and not all of those who enter the Salvation Army headquarters in search of food are transients by any means. We have a problem on our hands of taking care of them. In fact we cannot do it. I gave up long ago trying to find jobs for the men."

Lincoln-- Every Man's Neighbor

—There is a sublime, yet altogether unassuming figure, that walks constantly at the side of every good American—his constant mentor in those things that go to make greatness of char- acter. This is an every- day hero—heroic in his simplicity. He needs no shining armor, no ma- jesty of power, no glamor of legendary romance to fix his place among the immortals.

—Lincoln the man, the friend of humanity, is an even more precious asset in world history than Lincoln the states- man. The very intimacy and singular familiarity in which his memory is held is greatest proof of his towering position among the great.

—Let us believe that his watching spirit, ever close, hovers still nearer over the heart of Ameri- ca on the anniversary of his birth.
